I had the opportunity to speak with Stuart Rapeport, Vice President of the North Fig Association in Highland Park this morning. His assumption is that the murals in question would have had to have been painted over by the city as his association has not received any complaints about graffiti on those walls.

This makes response from the city all the more important.

Again, I need to know who made the decision to paint over the murals in question, when and on what grounds.

Thank you,

I'm a freelance writer reaching out to you on behalf of the Boulevard Sentinel. In researching a story we've learned that 3 murals or drive-thru galleries, in public parking lots near the Ebell Club and The Greyhound in Highland Park have been painted over.

I need to know who made the decision to paint over the murals, when and on what grounds.

I've been able to discuss this issue with members of the community and their understanding of what happened. For a complete story I require these details from the city.

I have also made an attempt to reach out to Bill Cody via LinkedIn with no response. Cody's email address is not listed on Cedillo's website.

To meet the deadline I need your feedback by end of day today, Monday April 16th.

Very best,
